What is Adult Foster Care?

Adult Foster Care, also known as AFC, is a program for elderly adults or adults with developmental disabilities who cannot live alone safely. AFC Members live with trained, paid caregivers who provide daily care.

AFC provides individuals with personal care assistance daily in a family setting rather than a nursing home or other residential facility. Caregivers provide meals, companionship, personal care assistance and 24-hr supervision. Caregivers may be individuals, couples or large families.

What is an AFC Caregiver?

A Caregiver:
- Can be a family member or non-family member.
- Cannot be a spouse, parent of a minor child or legally responsible relatives.
- Must be approved by MCS through an interview, references, and CORI check.
- Must be able to provide 24-hr supervision.
- Will receive a stipend for the care of the participant which is excluded from taxable income.

Matching Caregivers and Participants

- If a participant needs to be matched with a Caregiver who is a non-family member, MCS will take into consideration common interests, religion, and cultural needs of both the Member and the Caregiver to ensure the best match possible.
